

“Congratulations, you don’t have heart disease.”

What could be more reassuring than a clean bill of health for the number one cause of death for men and women? Coronary CTA at Medical Arts Radiology can provide this kind of peace of mind, and without costly and invasive medical procedures.

In just a few minutes, our high-speed CT scanners can capture detailed images of your heart that can rule out heart disease or indicate if treatment is called for.

- All studies are evaluated by vascular interventional radiologists with fellowship training in the diagnosis and treatment of blood vessel diseases.
- Opportunity to discuss scan results with radiologist upon completion of exam.
- Outpatient procedure — no cardiac catheterization or hospital stay required.
- Lower radiation dosage than a nuclear stress test.

Do you smoke, have high blood pressure or high cholesterol? Do you have unexplained chest pain or other risk factors? Coronary CTA can tell you the condition of your heart. Are you generally fit and engage in athletics? Coronary CTA can determine if there is a hidden problem of which you and your doctor need to be aware.

If you have ever been concerned about heart disease, Medical Arts Radiology can give you true peace of mind.
